“One of the most beautiful books about a designer, ever.” – SolidSmack

In Buckminster Fuller: Poet of Geometry, artist and designer Cole Gerst brings us the illustrated life story of renowned 20th century inventor and utopian visionary, Buckminster “Bucky” Fuller. Most known for inventing the geodesic dome, Bucky dedicated his life to solving problems for humanity by “doing more with less.” His ideas continue to influence generations of designers, architects, scientists, and artists working to create a more sustainable planet. This book not only shows how important Fuller was during his lifetime, but how his ideas are even more relevant today than ever.
