Crossing The River (Fireside Series, Vol. 2, No. 1) Ramtha
Part of Ramtha's Fireside Series collection library on the topic of living in the present and understanding the mind of a master.
When we become aware that we are God, we see life differently. For most of you, you struggle in the raging river of humanity. You are still caught up with the snags of your past. You are caught up with the wounds of your bodies, your neuronets. You are trying to make a crossing but you are afraid of being hurt or that you are going to miss something else that you hold back. So you are caught up on the snags of crossing this river. When we don t know that we are God, there is one thing we do know, that we are human beings. That knowingness is so common that we have yet to have the startling realization that when we know that is what we are, then is it any wonder that we are part of the snags of life that tear at the flesh, that hook upon it, that we are a part of a life that is so encumbered by the flesh that we are afraid to cross the river?
