Elements of the Philosophy of the Human Mind (Classic Reprint) Dugald Stewart
In various parts of the following Work, references are made to subsequent speculations, which are not contained in it Thce speculations it is my intention to resume at some future period: but when I consider the extent of my subject, and the many accidents which may divert me from the prosecution of it, I cannot venture so iar as to announce in the title-page of this volume, any promise of a future publicatioa Some additional chapters are still wanting, to complete the analysis of the Intellectual Powers. A fler finishing this, the course of my inquiries would lead me to treat, in the second place, of Man considered as an Active and iV loral being; and, thirdly, of Man considered as the member of a Political Society.
